

BUSINESS NEWS

Philo joins Whiteface Lodge staff

LAKE PLACID, — Seasoned real estate professional Margie Papier Philo has joined The Whiteface Lodge Resort & Spa as Director of Real Estate Sales. The appointment is effective May 7.

"I am delighted to welcome Margie to The Whiteface Lodge family," said Olivier J.P. Bottois, Chief Operating Officer of The Whiteface Lodge. "Margie is a well-respected member of the community and has a unique understanding of the Lake Placid real estate market."

Philo has worked as a real estate broker for Merrill Thomas in Lake Placid for the past 11 years. During her tenure there, she has managed real estate sales and rentals. "She brings a wealth of experience to our organization," said Bottois.

Philo joins The Whiteface Lodge at a time of strategic growth. Following its highly successful debut two years ago, the resort and private residence club was recently acquired by T-Rex Capital LLC. It is currently offering a limited opportunity for purchase of 1/12th ownership in addition to continuing its full ownership option.

The Whiteface Lodge honors the tradition of the Adirondack Great Camps, adding the highest level of luxury and exclusive amenities for today's owners and vacationers. On the heels of its 2005 opening, the property was named to The Robb Report "Best of the Best" List (one of only two resorts in North America), Conde Nast Traveler's "Hot List" and was designated a AAA Four-

Philo

Diamond property within its first year of operation. The Adirondack Regional Tourism Council honored The Whiteface Lodge with the Annual Private Sector Tourism Partnership Award.

For more information, call 1-800-903-4045 or log on to www.TheWhitefaceLodge.com.

Lake Placid News
May 4, 2007